

December 22, 2008

CDS FEBRUARY 2009 CYCLE PRODUCT DELAY

The U.S. Postal Service® is committed to providing our customers the highest quality data products to facilitate timely automation processing for the mailing industry. Due to the considerable number of route adjustments currently being processed across the country, a significant amount of data changes are expected in the February CDS products. To accommodate the bulk of the data changes and provide you the most current data possible, the February CDS product delivery will be delayed by one week.

We request that you update your address data as soon as possible to reflect the information changes that will be made in our addressing products. This will allow us to continue to provide you with the most efficient delivery service possible.

Thank you for your patience and understanding in this matter. If you have any questions, please contact CDS department at 800-238-3150.