

Approved eVS Mailers

The parcel mailers listed in the table at the end of this article are currently the only ones authorized to manifest parcel mail using the Electronic Verification System (eVS) to pay for parcel mailings that are prepared under Mailing Standards of the United States Postal Service, Domestic Mail Manual (DMM®) 705.2.9 and that meet the technical specifications in Publication 205, Electronic Verification System Business and Technical Guide.

The following new customers will begin using eVS for postage payment on Friday, December 5, 2008:

- Bombino Express Worldwide: Begins mailing parcels that contain the “eVS” endorsement in the permit imprint indicia printed on its mailing labels at origin locations.

The following new customers will begin using eVS for postage payment on Monday, December 8, 2008:

- Mercury International: Begins mailing parcels that contain the “eVS” endorsement in the permit imprint indicia printed on its mailing labels. There will be no PS Form 8125s for mailings entered under eVS.

As a reminder, the following are recent new eVS customers:

- AP0 Box: Began mailing parcels 11/26/08 that contain the “eVS” endorsement in the permit imprint indicia printed on its mailing labels. There will be no PS Form 8125s for mailings entered under eVS.
- Florida Gift Fruit Shippers Association, Inc.: Began mailing parcels 11/14/08 that contain the “eVS” endorsement in the permit imprint indicia printed on its mailing labels. There will be no PS Form 8125s for mailings entered under eVS.
- Landmark Distribution, LLC: Began mailing parcels 11/14/08 that contain the “eVS” endorsement in the permit imprint indicia printed on its mailing labels at origin locations.
- JCPenney Co: Began mailing parcels 11/10/08 that contain the “eVS” endorsement in the permit imprint indicia printed on its mailing labels at origin locations.
- Argix Direct: Began mailing parcels 11/7/08 that contain the “eVS” endorsement in the permit imprint indicia printed on its mailing labels. There will be no PS Form 8125s for mailings entered under eVS. All Destination Delivery Unit (DDU) mis-shipped parcels must be scanned as mis-shipped using delivery confirmation scanners and not returned to the customer.

The following customer is testing eVS and not using eVS for postage payment:

- Harlequin Sales Corporation: Parcels contain the “eVS” endorsement in the permit imprint indicia printed on its mailing labels.

PS Form 8125

eVS mailers are not required to use PS Form 8125, Plant-Verified Drop Shipment (PVDS) Verification and Clearance, with these exceptions:

- Harlequin, which is testing eVS, is still required to prepare and present PS Form 8125, along with all other paperwork required for PVDS manifesting procedures.
- Newgistics uses PS Form 8125 as an option to obtain a “start-the-clock” scan.

Resources and Information

Mailers interested in eVS can obtain information about the program from the following sources:

- Publication 205, Electronic Verification System Business and Technical Guide. This publication contains business and technical information about eVS, including current coding and file formats. The publication is available online at <http://www.usps.com/cpim/ftp/pubs/pub205.pdf>.
- eVS Help Desk. The Help Desk can provide general business and technical information about the program, provide required forms, and assist mailers in completing the eVS application. Mailers can contact the Help Desk either by email at eVS@usps.gov or by telephone at 877-640-2074.
