

LICENSING ANNOUNCEMENTS

January 25, 2008

USPS® Licensees,

Below is an announcement regarding use of USPS related terms in product names, domain names, etc.

Inappropriate Uses of USPS terms

As a reminder, Licensees cannot use USPS terms as part of their company names, product names, domain names or any other associated name.

Section 5.4 of both the NCOA^{Link®} Full and Limited Service License Agreements states:

'With regard to Licensee's Services under this Agreement, Licensee agrees not to use any of the following names or marks nor any derivatives thereof nor any confusingly similar name or mark:

COA
CASS
CASS Certified
COA Link
DPV
DSF²
eLOT
FASTforward
IZ4
LACS^{Link}
LINK
MAC
MAC Gold
MASS
NCOA
NCOA^{Link} ZIP

as or part of Licensee's company name, trade name, product names, domain names, trademarks (including word marks, service marks, logos and slogans).'

Please review your materials and products to ensure you are not in violation of the aforementioned section of the NCOA^{Link} License Agreement. If you are, immediately remove any improper use of USPS terms from any of your company's logos, slogans, Web and email addresses, etc.

If you have questions regarding use of USPS terms, submit your concerns to ncoalink@usps.gov.
