UPDATE: Detroit Plant Power Outage and Dallas Operations

The Detroit P&DC is still being powered with generators. However, it now has the capability to accept drop shipments at this time. All drop shipments should be redirected back to the Detroit P&DC.

Also, despite the overnight incident in Dallas, TX, U.S. Postal Service operations have not been impacted. Some individual deliveries may be impacted due to the ongoing police investigation.

If conditions change, we will provide an update.
